Buna

BUNA, TEXAS. Buna is at the junction of Farm roads 253 and 1004, U.S. Highway 96, and State Highway 62, thirty-six miles north of Beaumont in south central Jasper County. The Beaumont Lumber Company mill in southern Jasper County was first called Carrolla for the Carroll family, prominent Beaumont lumbermen and industrialists. The site was subsequently renamed Buna, however, in honor of one of the family's cousins, Buna Corley. A post office was established there in 1893. With substantial operations in Jasper County underway by 1890, the Beaumont Lumber Company built a tram road from Buna to Ford's Bluff, on the Neches River. John Henry Kirby later bought the ten-mile-long tram line and by 1896 had converted it to a common carrier and extended it to Beaumont in the south and Roganville in the north. The revamped railroad was called the Gulf, Beaumont and Kansas City. Buna's economic position was solidified in 1902, when the Orange and Northwestern Railway linked the logging town with Orange. Four years later the Orange and Northwestern was extended from Buna to Newton. A townsite situated between the two railroad lines was platted on July 21, 1916. Although the region's economy suffered as the virgin forests were reduced, in later years second-growth timber continued to provide local jobs. In addition to logging, farming remains important to local residents. Numerous oilfields, first discovered in 1948, lie to the west and north of Buna and further augment the local economy. The weekly East Texas News was founded at Buna in 1967. The population of Buna was estimated at 650 in the early 1940s, 1,650 by the early 1970s, 2,000 in 1985, and 2,127 in 1990. In 2000 the population was 2,269.

Welcome to Buna, Texas. The Buna Chamber of Commerce is a trusted voluntary organization of citizens who are working to help the growth and development of Buna. The Chamber of Commerce is a service institution and an action organization.

Chamber members work together to improve the economic, civic and cultural well being of the community and provide a medium through which individuals can take effective action for the promotion and progress of our community.

Kirbyville

“... A Good Place To Live”

Kirbyville began as a dream of John Henry Kirby who purchased 276 acres from Texas Tram and Lumber Company to lay out a townsite in late 1894. He hired Captain E.T. Kellie of Jasper to survey and plot the town which was named for Mr. Kirby.

Mr. Kirby's railroad, Gulf, Beaumont and Kansas City Railroad, extended just past what is now known as Main Street in Kirbyville. On May 1, 1895, following extensive advertising in most East Texas cities, approximately 1,000 people met the train carrying an eleven piece band from Beaumont and many excited passengers. Under a large tent the auction of the city lots began and so began the city of Kirbyville.

Kirbyville, which celebrated its Centennial in 1995, nestles in the piny woods of Deep East Texas between the gently flowing Trout Creek to the north and Pin Oak Creek to the south. The city lies near the Big Thicket National Preserve and owes its beginning and its continued existence to the timber and paper industries.

The citizens who reside in the Kirbyville area enjoy the rich history of the town and experience the distinct advantage of a scenic rural life but knowing that other worlds are near at hand: large metropolitan areas to the south and the vast lake areas of Sam Rayburn, Toledo Bend and Steinhagen Lake to the north. Also, the Sabine River is not far to the east and the Neches River is only twelve miles to the west. Kirbyville is only forty-two miles from the deep water port of Beaumont, Texas.

Year-round, the natural resources that surround Kirbyville play host to an abundance of activities.

Nearby state and national forests provide hiking, camping and nature exploration. Fresh water lakes, streams and rivers provide swimming, fishing and nautical pleasures; and the nearby Gulf Coast has deep sea fishing and beachcombing.

Several festivals occur annually including the Magnolia Festival and Christmas in the Park.

Many areas are set aside for hunting and game is plentiful including deer, turkeys, squirrels, quail, doves, raccoons and rabbits. Kirbyville itself is a bird sanctuary and provides much enjoyment to bird watchers.

“The Voice of the Business Community” Kountze

Highway 69 runs through Kountze, which is the county seat of Hardin County. Two entrepreneurial brothers who were contemporaries and competitors of Arthur Stilwell and “Bet A Million” Gates founded Kountze in 1881. Herman and Augustus Kountze were Nebraska bankers and founders of the Sabine and East Texas railroad. They also had vast timber holdings in Southeast Texas. In 1881 their railroad bypassed the old county seat of Hardin in favor of their newly established town of Kountze, two miles east of Hardin. As a result, Kountze became the county seat of Hardin County around 1886. The brothers donated the land for the new Hardin County courthouse in 1904.

Kountze became an incorporated city in 1947. The average annual rainfall is fifty-three inches. The average low temperature is 42 in January, and the average high is 93 in July. Major employers are KISD, Hardin County courthouse, Brookshire Brothers and Newark Paperboard Cores. In 2002, the city of Kountze constructed a new public library facility. A city park offers a walking track, children’s playground and covered pavilion.

The Big Thicket National Preserve, which boasted 100,000 visitors last year, is located in and around the Kountze area. The numerous nature trails of the Preserve are crowded each year with enthusiastic hikers and off road bikers. The Big Thicket Visitor Center is approximately five miles north of Kountze on the Big Thicket Preserve Parkway. Pristine, sandy-beached Village Creek, near Kountze, offers summer canoeing, fishing, kayaking and boating adventures. In addition, the Kountze area offers excellent birding opportunities. The American Bird Conservancy has designated the Big Thicket National Preserve a “Globally Important Bird Area”. The more sought after birds are the Red Cockaded Woodpecker, the Brown-headed Nuthatch, and the Bachman’s Sparrow.

Kountze is a short drive from the Golden Triangle area where state of the art medical facilities, job opportunities, and educational resources are accessible. Wildwood Resort City, a gated community, with a 365-acre lake and an 18-hole championship golf course is just nine miles north of Kountze. Subdivisions like Ranchland and Beaumont Colony offer country home sites. Because of Kountze’s close proximity to the growing area around Lumberton, there are plans for additional subdivisions in the coming years.

The Kountze school district was named the exemplary district in Region 5 and Kountze High School was voted TEA Exemplary Campus for 2000-2003. There are more than twenty churches of various denominations in and around Kountze. All around one can see evidence of the community’s strength, diversity and emphasis on traditional family values.

With a population of 2115, Kountze offers the advantages of small town security and friendliness only minutes away from urban shopping areas and conveniences...truly the best of worlds for vital businesses who want to relocate, those wishing to retire and active, growing families.

There is plenty of room to stretch out and enjoy life in Kountze, Texas.

Newton County

“Clean Air - Fresh Water - Friendly People”

The state legislature marked off Newton County on April 22, 1846, from the eastern half of Jasper County and named it in honor of John Newton, a veteran of the American Revolution. Newton County is located in southeastern Texas on the Louisiana border and is the longest and easternmost county in Texas. The City of Newton is the geographic center and largest town of the county. The county comprises 950 square miles of the lower regions of the East Texas timber belt. Capitalizing on the region's huge expanses of virgin forests, large timber interests became involved in Newton County during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Throughout the years with proper forest management and reforestation programs, the county's available timber resources have been rejuvenated. By 1990, forestry was the main agricultural activity in the county. Common trees include longleaf and shortleaf pines, oak, magnolia, hickory, redbuds, dogwood and cypress. The rolling terrain is dominated by loamy topsoils. Oil and gas dominate the county's mineral resources. Rainfall averages just over fifty-four inches annually, the highest for any county in the state.

Newton is truly a historian's dream. A “must see” is the History Center & Museum. The Center is widely recognized for its definitive Genealogical Library, artifacts, archives and family collections. You will experience the bygone days of the East Texas Sawmills, as well as other events and people that have contributed to the proud history of the City and County since 1846. You can take self-guided tours throughout the area and visit distinctive historical churches, landmarks, historical markers and 120 cemeteries.

The Powell Hotel was originally the W.H. Ford Male and Female College. It was located at the site of the old high school on East Main Street. Built in 1889, it served as a co-educational college. Sold to Joseph & Minnie Powell in 1914, the building was converted into a hotel. The Powell family operated the Powell Hotel until 1954. In 1999, the Powell heirs decided the hotel and property to the Newton

County Historical Commission to be restored and serve as a museum that would represent the education and culture of Newton County beginning in 1889.

The Historic 1902 Newton County Courthouse, the 'hub' of the city, was devastated by a fire on August 4, 2000. As the citizens of Newton watched it burn, thoughts of rebuilding were already in their minds! Only the four walls were left standing and through the efforts of the County Judge and the community, a grant from the Texas Historical Commission was obtained and the structure is being restored to the original design!

The City of Newton is aggressive in assisting existing businesses and potential new businesses. In 1994, the Newton Economic Development Corporation and the Newton Community Development Corporation were formed. New and existing businesses requesting economic assistance have discovered that working with the City of Newton is easier and more timely than many other larger communities. The economic assistance request package is moved through promptly and with an earnest desire to help that business in it's efforts to move to Newton. Today, many families and businesses find Newton County an attractive area to relocate. Life moves a bit slower, but the labor force is plentiful and market values of land and homes are traditionally lower than property in neighboring counties. Our Newton City and County governments are committed to the promotion of high quality services and economic development and to an ongoing improvement in the quality of life for its citizens.

Newton also offers family recreation at the Pete Hughes Memorial Park and Caney Creek Park. The Hughes Park provides a complete playground facility and is conveniently located across from the Newton County Public Library. The Caney Creek Park located at the intersection of U.S. Highway 190 and State Highway 87 provides a one mile plus walking trail that winds along the creek and around a pond under antique light poles. During the month of December, the park is home to a fantastic display of Christmas lights, which can be seen from the Christmas Train! The new Welcome Center Depot will host the Christmas Train & all other festivities of the season. The Fair Grounds hosts the Newton County Livestock Show in the Spring and is home to several other events promoted year 'round. In the fall, the Newton Ex-Students Association sponsors its annual Homecoming Parade & Bazaar on the Courthouse Square. If you would like to experience business owners calling you by name, an outstanding school district, church and spiritual foundations and abundant recreational opportunities, the City of Newton welcomes you to be part of it's family of residents!

Sabine County

“The Best of All Places.”

Discover Sabine County

When we cross the Pendleton Bridge joining Louisiana and Texas we will be traveling on Texas Hwy 21, also know as “El Camino Real de los Tejas”. This part of the hwy has been designated as a National Historic Trail with an active history of at least 300 years. The water below us is the Toledo Bend reservoir. It’s the largest body of water in the South and a world class fishing lake. Since 1969 this reservoir has covered 65 mile of the original water course of the Sabine River

As we enter Texas our first stop will be the Historic Gaines-Oliphint House located in the Pendleton Harbor Subdivision just a mile on our right. This Pre-republic Anglo, double pen, planked log, story and a half, structure is acknowledged by the Texas Historical Commission as the oldest standing hand hewn log structure in the state. The Daughters of the Republic of Texas have restored the main structure as it stands within a two acre fenced property.

As we return to the El Camino Real Historic Trail, we turn right-West and continue for 7 miles to the intersection with Hwy 87. On the NW corner of the intersection you will find El Camino Park and the original site of the court house square of “Red Mound”/Milam. The US Post Office here was the “first” registered in the state of Texas. The small, reconstructed, Causey Cabin dates to 1837 and is open on the weekend before Thanksgiving every year during Milam Settlers Day.

Continuing West on Hwy 21 and taking the turn toward Geneva and San Augustine, you will pass a Historical marker noting the largest and earliest Spanish land grant in Sabine County. In a few miles, on your left, you will see the sign for the “Lobanillo Swales”. This is the location of the finest historic Wagon Tracks in the country. The tracks are certified by Archeologists as more than 300 years old.

Continuing along this Historic Trail, you will find the marker leading to the original location of the 1883 Oldest Protestant congregation in the State of Texas, McMahon Chapel Methodist Church. At this site is the current chapel structure, museum, and historic cemetery.

Now that we have covered Hwy 21/El Camino Real de los Tejas East to West in Sabine County, let us return to the intersection with Hwy 87 and turn right toward Hemphill, the county seat of Sabine County Since 1852. In Hemphill we will find the “Remembering Columbia” NASA Museum. This museum is the most sought after location for visitors in all of Sabine County. On February 1, 2003, the Columbia Shuttle broke up during re-entry and came down largely in Sabine County. This museum tells the story of the Shuttle program, STS 107, those lost, and the miracle that united all of Sabine County in a need greater than themselves. From the Shuttle Museum it’s only a few blocks to the Historic Courthouse, Old Jail Museum and the County Square.

As we leave Hemphill traveling West on Hwy 83/ Worth Street, we will pass some of the original antique housing built for the local lumber mill. Lumber was and still is a major contribution to the economy in these Piny Woods.

Down the road is another 10 miles is Pineland, the only other incorporated town in Sabine County. Pineland was born as a mill town and still has that claim to fame. In the beautiful park where Pineland Days takes place, every other year, we will find ample evidence of the Historic past.

Thank you for taking the time to discover Sabine County with me.

A place to grow Silsbee

The genesis of Silsbee can be traced to the timber and railroad industry. In 1893, a young Houstonian named John Henry Kirby came to East Texas with a vision of capitalizing on the vast timber resources found within the area. He wasted no time in organizing a group of investors to help accomplish this dream. One investor, Nathaniel D. Silsbee, realized that the town's first major obstacle was the lack of a rail system in the eastern part of Hardin County. With this in mind Kirby and Silsbee began the construction of the Gulf, Beaumont and Kansas City Railroad from the city of Beaumont to be completed at the city of San Augustine. After the completion of the railroad, Kirby sold it to Santa Fe Railroad Company. The developing town was eventually named Silsbee after Nathaniel D. Silsbee.

Silsbee, the principal commercial center of Hardin County, is located at the edge of the Piney Woods region about fifteen miles northeast of the Port of Beaumont on the Texas Gulf coast and is within easy driving distance to the Houston metropolitan area. Nestled in the piney woods of Southeast Texas, deep within the Big Thicket National Preserve, Silsbee offers a hometown atmosphere with modern conveniences set in one of the most beautiful natural environments in Texas. Any season is a great time to canoe the densely forested sections of Southeast Texas. Each season brings its own splendor to the Piney Woods and the Big Thicket. It has landscape filled with natural beauty and wildlife. There is so much to discover here!

Founded in 1946, the Silsbee Chamber of Commerce strives to advance the commercial, industrial, and civic interests of the City of Silsbee. With a membership of over 300 businesses, individuals, civic clubs, and churches who employ approximately 6,700 people who choose Silsbee as their place of preference to live, work, and play. The Silsbee Chamber of Commerce serves as the voice of Silsbee. The organization works to assist and encourage established businesses and industry to expand in the community.

The Silsbee Chamber of Commerce is concerned with quality of life issues for its citizens. This accounts for the strong individual and civic organization membership base. The Chamber assists and plans various local events, strongly promotes Silsbee's tourism aspects and serves on numerous committees.

Tyler County

"The Dogwood Capital of Texas"

TYLER COUNTY. (J-22) is in southeastern Texas near the Louisiana border. Woodville, the county seat and largest town, is fifty-six miles north of Beaumont and ninety miles northeast of Houston, very near the center of the county at 3047' north latitude and 9425' west longitude. Tyler County is bounded on the north and east by the Neches River. The county comprises 908 square miles of the East Texas timberlands, an area densely forested with pine and a great variety of hardwoods. It contains two units and parts of two more of the twelve units of the Big Thicket National Preserve established by Congress in 1974. The land is gently rolling, with an elevation ranging from 100 to 400 feet above sea level. Northern and eastern Tyler County is drained to the Neches River via Caney, Russell, Billiams, Pamplin, Wolf, Theuvenins, and Rush creeks. The southwestern part of the county contains numerous springs and drains into Horsepen, Hickory, Turkey, and Cypress creeks. The largest body of water in the county is B. A. Steinhagen Lake on the Neches River, impounded in 1951 by Town Bluff Dam (also called Dam B); the lake covers 13,700 acres.

The area of Tyler County was for centuries occupied by agricultural Caddoan, and possibly Atakapan, Indians. White settlers there in the early nineteenth century encountered both Caddoan-related Cherokees uprooted from the east and groups of Alabama and Coushatta Indians, recent migrants from Louisiana. In 1809 there were hundreds of Alabama Indians living on the west bank of the Neches River, three leagues above the junction of the Neches and Angelina rivers. At Peach Tree Village in Tyler County, their principal Texas settlement, the Alabamas kept cattle, horses, and hogs and cultivated corn, potatoes, beans, and yams. The Cherokees were eventually driven from the state by order of Mirabeau B. Lamar, but the Alabamas and Coushattas cooperated with Sam Houston and others friendly to their cause and have survived as one of only two Indian groups living on their own reservations in Texas. The Alabama-Coushatta Reservation is just across the western Tyler County line in Polk County. The settlement by whites of what was to become Tyler County began before the time of the Texas Revolution in 1836. Three Americans received land grants there from Mexican authorities in 1834, and thirty-four more men and one woman, Jane Taylor, received grants during 1835. The area was originally organized in 1842 under the name of Menard District, "for judicial and other purposes," from a part of Liberty County. Tyler County was officially established by the Texas legislature on April 3, 1846, and was named in honor of President John Tyler.

When you visit, you will find southern hospitality from our citizens and southern beauty from our large forests and sparkling lakes for camping, fishing and swimming. Our rolling hills give magnificent views of tall pine trees in Texas. The last weekend in March is Tyler County Western Weekend with a western parade and rodeo. The weekend prior to Western Weekend is Festival of the Arts with activities at Heritage Village and Emporium for the Arts.

The Tyler County Fair is held each fall with animal judging, an FFA/4H auction and carnival rides. The first weekend of December is Christmas in Tyler County. This features residents and guests in Dickens era costumes, the arrival of Santa and the lighting of the courthouse square. Present at all of these events are booths featuring arts & crafts and delicious food. Check out our website throughout the year for other great family activities.

YOU'VE FLOWN THE FLAG. NOW WHAT?

Since September 11th, 2001, we have all witnessed a powerful resurgence of the American spirit. But patriotism alone is not enough. We must protect ourselves and our families by learning how to be safe and calm in the event of a terrorist attack.

First, make an emergency supply kit. Set aside the supplies you'll need to survive three days at home. You'll need clothes, sleeping bags, nonperishable food and a gallon of water per person, per day. Other items will be helpful too – a flashlight, a battery-powered radio, extra batteries, a first-aid kit and toilet articles.

Second, make a family communications plan. Make sure family members know how to contact each other in an emergency. It may be smart to have everyone call an out-of-state friend or relative. Keep a list of emergency numbers near the phone. Plan how you will evacuate if you are asked to do so.

Third, be informed. In emergencies, planning pays off. If your family knows what to expect, all of you will be calmer in the aftermath of a terrorist event. For details on emergency preparedness, visit our website at www.ready.gov. Or get a free brochure by calling 1-800-BE-READY (1-800-237-3239).
